Uma weaving the Future with
BUNAAI

Bunnai is an initiative by Uma which up-cycles laminate plastic waste into beautiful handcrafted fabrics using Charkha (spindle) and Handloom.

This aims to innovate and present sustainable alternatives by pairing traditional Indian crafts with our Up-cycled laminate waste hand-woven fabrics with contemporary designs.

Bunaai also encourages women of our village to participate & work and make themselves self-reliant.

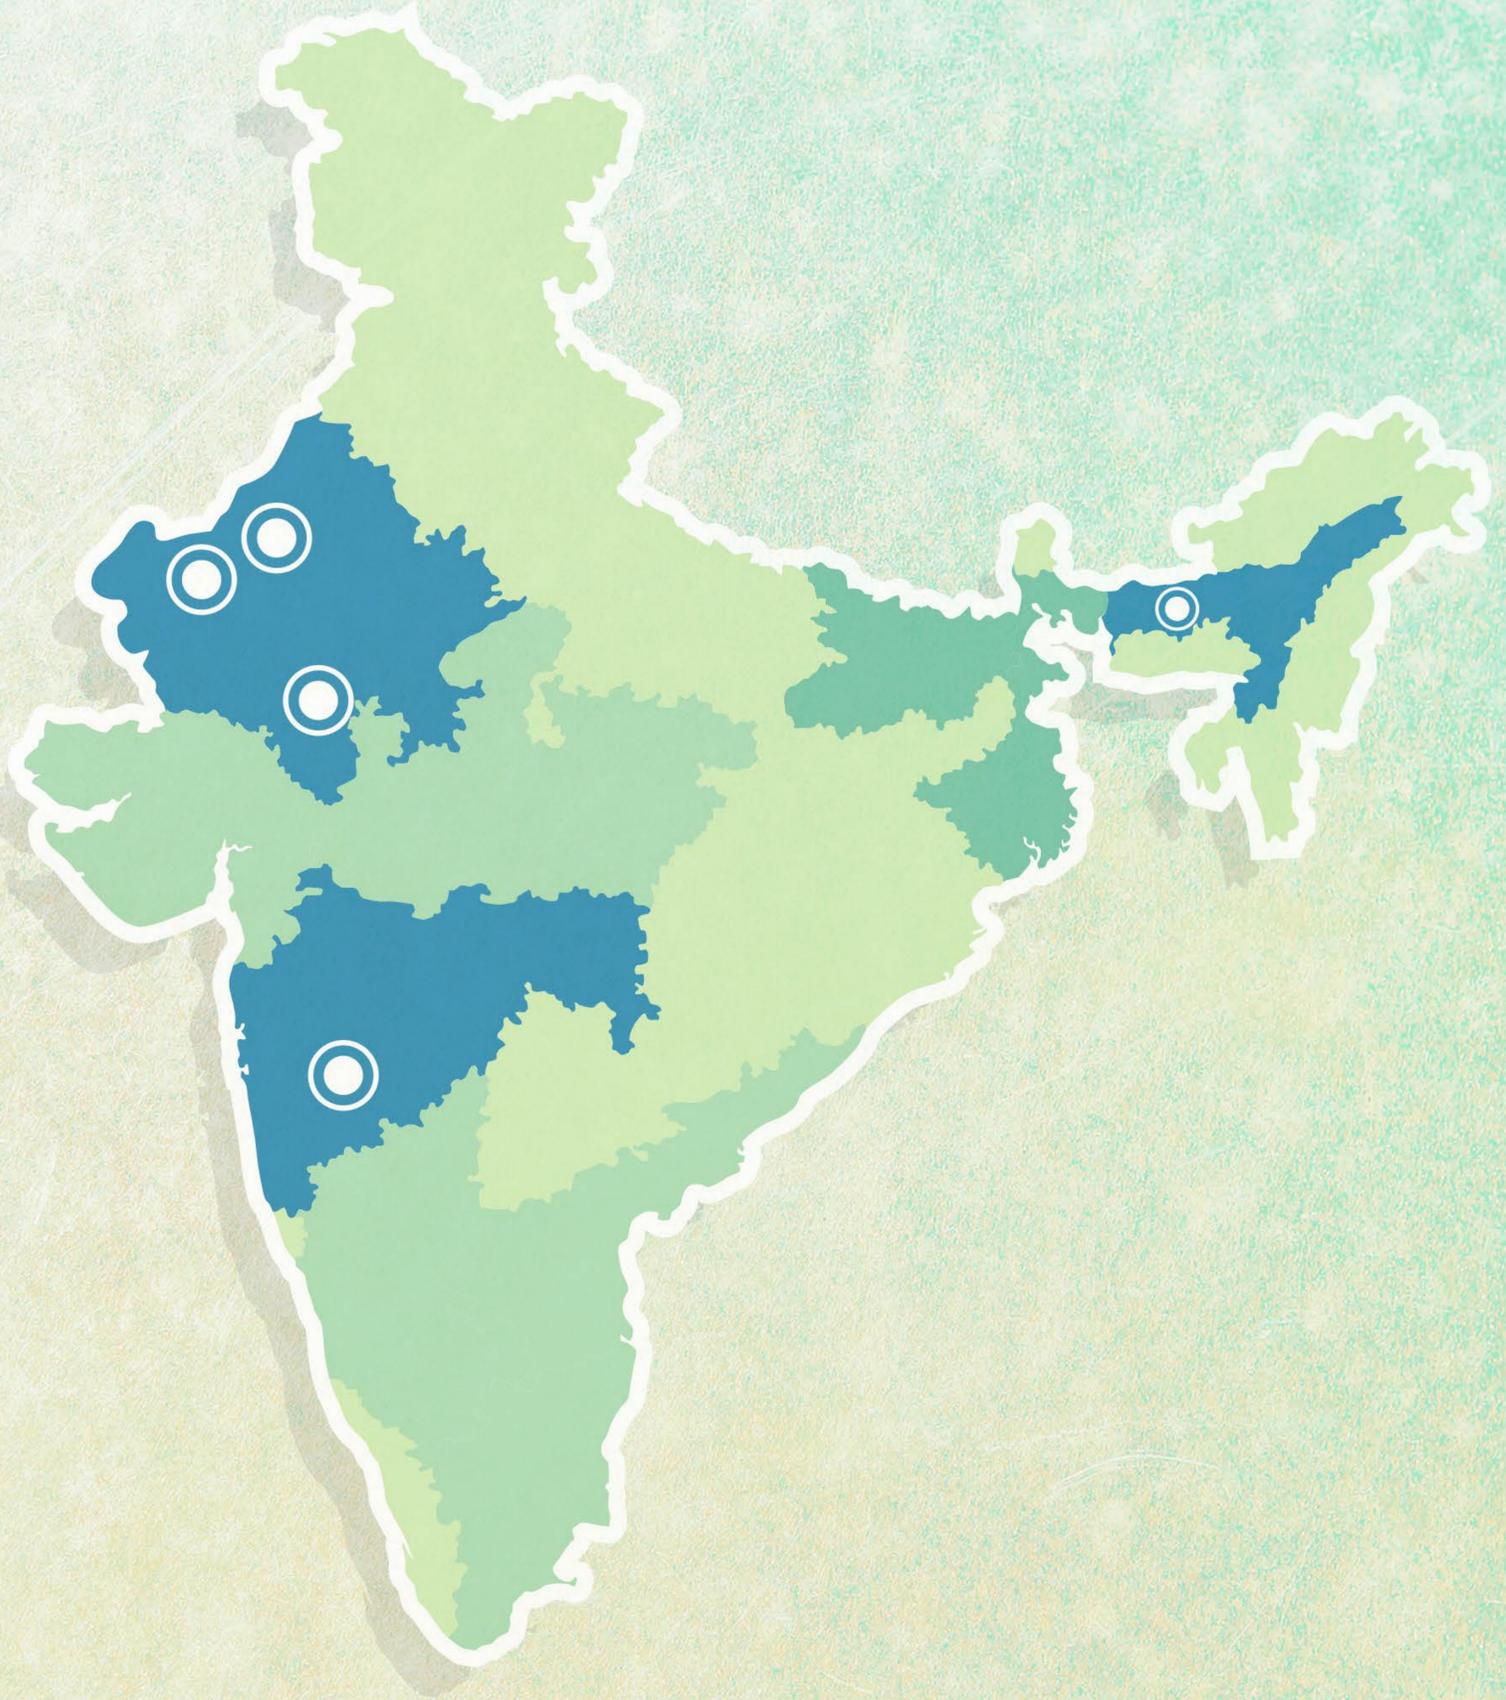

Innovating a way towards handcrafted sustainability.

Uma crafted Up-cycled laminate waste into exquisite hand-woven fabrics to create diverse lifestyle essentials like baskets, pen stands, tot bags, store bags, and hand purses.

This initiative empowered over 200+ rural women through vocational training, offering them their newfound livelihood.
